The Fisherman's LineNovember Meeting, Tuesday November 27, 2018*7:30 pm @ Harper Jr. High School*Tristan Leong Presents: Tips and Tricks For Improving Your Odds of Hooking And Landing More Steelhead.

*T*his month, Tuesday November 27th at Harper Junior High School, the Fly Fishers of Davis will be hosting our Programs Director, Tristan Leong. He will be presenting: Tips and tricks to improve your odds of finding, hooking, and landing steelhead. This topic will simplify and demystify the wide base of “expert” knowledge and “advice” about “how to catch” them, while exploring a number of unmentioned facets to improve your skills and technique in pursuit of steelhead trout. It will cover information applicable to all skill levels and will draw upon his experience pursuing steelhead across the Pacific Northwest.

Steelhead is one of Tristan’s favorite pursuits on a fly rod and he looks forward to sharing his knowledge to those that want to learn and improve their game.

Prior to Tristan’s presentation, Chris Shutes of the California Sportfishing Protection Alliance will give the Club an update on their conservation efforts.

THE PREZ SEZ

By Tom Robinson

“TODAY BE THANKFUL AND THINK HOW RICH YOUR ARE. YOUR FAMILY IS PRICELESS, YOUR TIME IS GOLD, AND YOUR HEALTH IS WEALTH.”

I hope everyone enjoyed their Thanksgiving Holiday. I am very thankful that everyone in our family was able to get together on Thanksgiving day, feast on some wonderful food, and enjoy each other's company. For those that have family or friends that are displaced by the Camp Fire disaster, my thoughts and prayers are with them.

Fall weather finally seems to be here and the cooler temperatures are causing the fishing to turn on! We are starting to see some big Stripers being caught in the Delta, and shore fishing is finally starting to be productive at Pyramid Lake. Hopefully I will have some big fish pictures to share from an upcoming trip to Pyramid Lake the first weekend in December.

Speaking of pictures to share, it is that time again to forward your fish pictures from 2018 to Paul Berliner. Paul is in the initial stages of putting together his FFD Annual Dinner Year In Review, which is always a crowd favorite. Look on page 4 on how to send those to him.

The FFD Board is still looking for volunteers interested in helping with the Salmon In The Classroom program. Adney Bowker will have a station at the December Home Grown meeting, so if you have questions on how you can get involved, please plan on stopping at talking with Adney.

The annual FFD Fish Camp Scholarship has just been posted. If you have a family member who is 10-15 years of age, or know a Davis Boy Scout or Girl Scout that is interested in fly fishing, look on page 6 on how to apply. The 5-day Fish Camp is put on by The Fly Shop out of Redding and is a great opportunity for young kids to learn everything about fly fishing.

Lastly, make sure that you bring some extra $$ to the Club meeting. Mike Parker, a guide at The Fly Shop out of Redding has donated another Guided Float trip. Phil Reedy will have a raffle board setup for the donated trip. Don't delay... the raffle board typically fills up quickly.

Hope to see you Tuesday night!

MEETING SCHEDULE

The meeting schedule has been tentatively set for the next few months. Tristan Leong is the program chair - let him know if you like the program speakers or if you have ideas for one.

NOTICE OF ANNUAL MEETING

By Cary Boyden

Notice is hereby given that the Fly Fishers of Davis will hold its annual meeting during the business portion of the December 11, 2018 meeting to be held at Harper Junior High School, The business portion of the meeting is set to commence at 7:30 pm.

The sole scheduled orders of business are the election of the club's officers for 2019 and the election of one Director to fill the three years Board of Directors term beginning in January 2019 and running through December 2021.

The Board has nominated the following Officer slate:

- President: Tom Robinson
- Vice President: Dan Kathan
- Treasurer: Dan Kathan
- Secretary: Eric Kapucinski

To fill the Director slots which will open up in January the Board has nominated:

To be announced shortly

First Call For Photos and Video!

By Paul Berliner

About this time each year, I start planning the annual dinner video, but — I need your photos and videos to make it work! If you took photos, video or even “drone video” during your 2018 fly-fishing adventures, collect your best pix and video clips, put them on a flash drive, and give them to me at the next club meeting. If you have just a few pix, please email them to me (paul@berlinerproductions.com).

But please, oh please, do NOT send gigantic emails full of pictures! If the file size is too large, use a flash drive, or contact me — and I’ll arrange to get the files.

Important:

Photos and video must be taken between Jan 1, 2018 and December 31, 2018.

High resolution JPG images are preferred for photos.

For video, any file format works fine, but the higher the resolution, the better.

Please include your name, and the location at which the photos were shot.

This year, we’ll also hold our annual photo contest, and all photos submitted are automatically considered. Your trusty Board of Directors will pick the very best shots, select the winners, and we’ll announce them at the Annual Dinner.

Many thanks!

Introductory Fly Tying Class Will Begin January 9, 2019

By Bob Zasoski

Introductory Fly Tying Class will be offered beginning Wednesday January 9 and continue on Wednesday January 16, 23 and 30 and February 6 and 13. The six week class will cover the tying basics and introduce students to techniques and for nymphs, streamers, and dry flies. Keith Barton will lead the class. Keith has a wealth of experience as a commercial fly tier and fishing guide and has taught fly tying classes for the Golden Gate Angling and Casting Club. John Daniels and Bob Zasoski will assist with the class. Class size is limited to 10 participants. Repeat students are welcome, but preference will be given to those that have not taken the class previously. A one time, $15 fee is assessed to cover materials and handouts costs. If needed, tools and equipment will be provided. Classes are scheduled to run from 7:00 P.M. to 9:00 P.M. at the Viticulture Field Headquarters near the University Airport. A signup sheet will be available at both the November and December meetings. You may also sign up by contacting Bob Zasoski at rjzasoski@sbcglobal.net. Students will receive a map to the Viticulture Field House and tying instructions by email.

HELP WANTED

Opportunity for Club Volunteers Salmon in the Classroom Program

Our current Salmon in the Classroom Program Coordinator, Adney Bowker, would like to transition this interesting and valuable program into the hands of more volunteers who would like to continue on with it. Interested members do not have to have any particular knowledge or background in salmon or steelhead, or the raising of fish, or experience in teaching. All that is needed is a willingness to help and support teachers who want to raise salmon or steelhead in their classrooms. This is a good time to learn about this opportunity, as salmon eggs are due to be delivered to teachers in November. Adney will train anyone interested.

We are looking for volunteers to fill the roles in the program:

- Act as contact in Classroom Aquarium Education Program (email, phone, meetings, etc)
- Communicate with teachers supported by the FFD.
- Seek and enroll new teachers into the program.
- Maintain a database of teachers information and equipment tracking (Excel).
- Purchase and assemble aquarium materials and equipment, manage equipment inventory and pickup returned equipment.
- Deliver aquarium equipment to teachers, and train them in operation and maintenance.
- Provide guidance and support to teachers in raising fish, from eggs to fry.
- Organize and schedule FFD member volunteers to deliver eggs, assist with equipment assembly, accompany teachers during release of fry to the river, etc.
- Attend meetings as necessary with the Department of Fish and Wildlife (DFW), teachers, FFD Board, volunteers, etc.
- Generate annual report to DFW on FFD expenses and volunteer hours.

Please contact outreach@flyfishersofdavis.org if you can fill one or more of the roles above.

2019 FFD FISHCAMP SCHOLARSHIP

The Fly Fishers of Davis (FFD) are offering a Fish Camp Scholarship to any interested boy or girl, from 10 to 15 years of age. This $795 award covers the entire cost of the five day program (June 17 – June 21, 2019), which is outfitted by The Fly Shop of Redding. The FFD Board has approved to include members of Davis Boy Scout and Girl Scout Troops, and children that participated in the Salmon in the Classroom Program as eligible applicants, in addition to relatives of Fly Fishers of Davis members.

For more information and the online application go to : <http://www.flyfishersofdavis.org/scholarship/fishcamp.html>

MIKE PARKER RAFFLE BOARD

Mike Parker has donated another guided float trip to the Fly Fishers of Davis. Stop by the raffle table at the monthly FFD Club Meeting and purchase a space or 3 on the raffle board. Good Luck!

CONSERVATION REPORT

By Lowell Ashbaugh

Conservation Mailing List Want to keep up on conservation issues in between newsletters? Join the FFD Conservation email list at <http://www2.dcn.org/mailman/listinfo/ffd-conservation>.

The Delta Stewardship Council staff issued a draft determination that there is not substantial evidence in the record to support the Department of Water Resources finding that the California WaterFix (aka Twin Tunnels) is consistent with the Delta Plan. The 2009 Delta Reform Act created the Delta Stewardship Council and charged the Council with preparing a long-term management plan for achieving the coequal goals of providing a more reliable water supply for California and protecting, restoring, and enhancing the Delta ecosystem. The Act also specifies that the coequal goals shall be achieved in a manner that protects and enhances the unique cultural, recreational, natural resource, and agricultural values of the Delta as an evolving place.

The first Delta Plan was adopted by the Council in 2013. Since then, the Plan has been updated to refine performance measures, exclude single-year transfers as a covered action, address levee maintenance through the Delta Levee Investment Strategy, and notably to address improving conveyance, storage, and operations (CSO) in the Delta. The CSO amendment was based on 19 principles and said, among other things, that new conveyance in the Delta should be “a combination of new isolated conveyance and improved through-Delta conveyance facilities (dual conveyance) with access to multiple points of diversion, including one or more screened diversions.”

Per the Delta Reform Act, any agency undertaking a project or action that qualifies as a covered action as defined in the legislation must certify that the project or action is consistent with the Delta Stewardship Council’s Delta Plan. In July of 2018, the Department of Water Resources submitted their consistency determination for the California Water Fix project, certifying that it was consistent with the Delta Plan.

Any person who feels that a proposed action is inconsistent with the Delta Plan and that it will have a significant adverse impact on the achievement of one or both of the coequal goals may file an appeal with the Council. Nine appeals from 26 parties were filed; the objections include that the determination is premature because the supplemental EIR is not final, the Delta Plan is under litigation and therefore invalid, the project is inconsistent with coequal goals and Delta Plan policies such as reduced reliance and flow criteria, and that implementing the project does not protect and enhance the Delta as an evolving place.

A three day appeal hearing was held in late October. The appeal process is focused on whether there is substantial evidence that supports certification.

Council staff agreed with two main arguments of Save the California Delta Alliance; 1) that WaterFix is not consistent with D-1641 water quality requirements (meaning acceptable salinity in the Delta, particularly that it violates the Export to Inflow ratios); and 2) that WaterFix does not respect local land uses because of impacts on recreation and legacy communities.

Deirdre Des Jardins (California Water Research)’s testimony on sea level rise was also agreed with by the staff, North Delta C.A.R.E.S. (Barbara Daly) testified against the legacy town damage that would occur, STCDA on all of the impacts up and down the Delta, and other testimonies were presented during the two-day Delta Stewardship Meeting October 24 & 25.

The Council’s staff draft determination states that substantial evidence does not exist in the record to support DWR’s finding that California WaterFix is consistent with the Delta Plan and recommends remanding the matter back to the Department of Water Resources for consideration. The Department could then submit revised certification.

In order for project to move forward, all appeals must be resolved.

The Delta Stewardship Council conducted a public workshop on November 15-16, 2018 to review and discuss the staff draft Determination. At that hearing Council Chair Randy Fiorini asked the Water Board to withdraw its certification of consistency, saying it’s clear the staff findings won’t change much before the next hearing. In particular, he cited Delta Plan policies on Delta flow criteria, reduced reliance on the Delta, and the Delta as a Place. The Council will consider the staff Determination and take action at a hearing scheduled during the December 20-21, 2018 Council meeting.

Barbara Barrigan-Parilla of Restore the Delta stated “As Governor-Elect Newsom prepares to take office, we hope he reflects on the DSC’s findings that indicate the tunnels project will not protect, enhance, or restore the Delta. Newsom won over voters by leaving the impression that he would modernize California. Governor-Elect Newsom has the chance to create his own unique legacy by backing away from this outdated 20th century project to pursue 21st century alternative projects that actually benefit the public trust.”

The State Water Resources Control Board agreed to delay a decision on a water quality control plan for the Sacramento-San Joaquin Delta after receiving a request from Governor Brown and Governor-elect Newsom. Brown and Newsom asked for a 34-day delay to try to work out a voluntary settlement with the irrigation districts that would be most affected by a plan that establish minimum flow requirements for the Lower San Joaquin River and Southern Delta.

The California Farm Bureau and 53 other organizations urged the water board this summer to reject a proposal from board staff to redirect flows in the rivers, and to pursue voluntary agreements that would lessen flow amounts but be more beneficial to fish populations.

“We’re pleased the governor and governor-elect recognize the clear benefits of voluntary actions,” Johansson said. “Imposing stringent regulatory requirements based on policies that have failed in the past would damage an important region of California without helping fish. We will work with the governor and governor-elect to assure that any future agreements lead to success for the environment and the economy.”

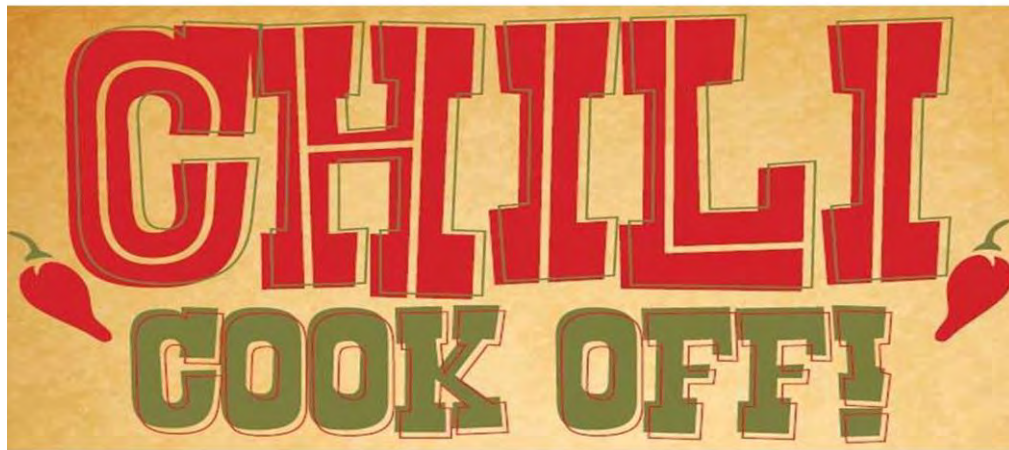

John McManus, President of the Golden Gate Salmon Association, said “California lost a historic chance to heal a great environmental wound that is diverting Central Valley rivers and choking the life out of them, including our salmon runs. Instead of voting to restore rivers, the Water Board kicked the can down the road, just as its predecessors did in the 1980s and 1990s when Governors Deukmejian and Wilson forced the State Board to withdraw previous proposed river flow standards at the 11th hour. Delay means death to salmon, the loss of fishing jobs, likely extinctions and the collapse of the largest estuary on the West Coast. I doubt that the Board will act to restore our rivers in 30 days, but I sure hope I’m wrong.

The election has some interesting implications for fisheries conservation issues in California. The return of the House to control by Democrats means Rep. Jared Huffman is likely to chair the House Natural Resources Committee., making efforts to override state law to build Temperance Flat Dam (TFD) and raise Shasta Dam more difficult. Senators Feinstein and Harris will also have less negotiation room to help Kevin McCarthy achieve the legal changes he needs for TFD and Shasta Dam raise.

The failure of Proposition 3 also has implications beyond the immediate loss of $750 million to the Friant Water Authority to rebuild and repair the Friant-Kern Canal. That agency will now have to devote much more time to obtaining funds from other sources and less time to getting TFD funded.

Unfortunately, the lame duck session may be nasty if the GOP tries to press its advantage while they still have the congress. Watch closely to see what unfolds in the next two months.

Fly Fishers of Davis Winter Chili Cook Off December Club Meeting, Dec 11, 2018

Time to break out that secret family chili recipe! This year Fly Fishers of Davis will have a chili cook off at the December Home Grown Club Meeting. To participate, send an email events@flyfishersofdavis.org saying that you plan on bringing a crockpot of chili for all to taste and vote on.

FFD TRAVELS: Klamath River Float

Summary and Photos by Phil Reedy

Club members Sam Chamberlin, John Eisele, Andan Bailey, and Phil Reedy spent two days floating the Klamath river in late October fishing for steelhead. Our guide service was Jefferson Flywater which has a 20 acre camp along the Klamath west of the town of Happy Camp. We stayed in fairly nice tents at the camp and the trip included a cook who prepared all of our meals at their extensive outdoor kitchen. Evenings were spent around the campfire drinking wine and playing cards and then on Saturday and Sunday morning we hit the river after breakfast.

The first day we floated a section of the river about 20 miles west of Happy Camp. In addition to fishing gear, Phil traveled with a full complement of camera equipment, hoping for some good shots of fishing and fall colors. Other than some early clouds, the day was sunny and quite a few half pounders were caught. Only Sam managed an adult that day. East of Happy Camp along the river the fall colors were amazing. Even the non-photographers in the group were duly impressed. West of town and lower in elevation was not as scenic, but the Klamath is still a beautiful river.

We had been watching the weather as rain was expected to move in Saturday night. With no cell coverage at the camp, we relied on the forecast from Friday and hoped it was accurate. As predicted, it did rain during the night, but by launch time Sunday morning it had mostly stopped. For the second day, the guides, feeling sorry for Phil, decided to head upstream of Happy Camp to a very scenic canyon area rife with fall colors. Suffice it to say, while Andan fished out of the back of the boat all morning, Phil sat in the front, camera in hand, looking for good photo ops. He was not disappointed. The scenery in the upper stretch was incredible, with canyons, rapids, and lots of trees in full autumn glory. Our guide the second day, Colin, also guides bear hunting trips along the river, and pointed out spots where he had seen bears standing on rocks next to the river as close as fifteen feet from the boat. Boy, we would have loved to have seen that.

The fishing for half pounders was good again on Sunday, although Andan and Phil seemed to have a lot of fish hook up and then self release on the way to the boat. For Phil it might be attributed to poor landing technique, but when it happens to Andan as well, it must just be clever fish. All in all, it was a great trip and a gorgeous part of the state. When we will get back to fish it again is unknown, but Phil is definitely heading back next fall just to see the colors again.

Ominous skies greeted us a launch Sunday morning

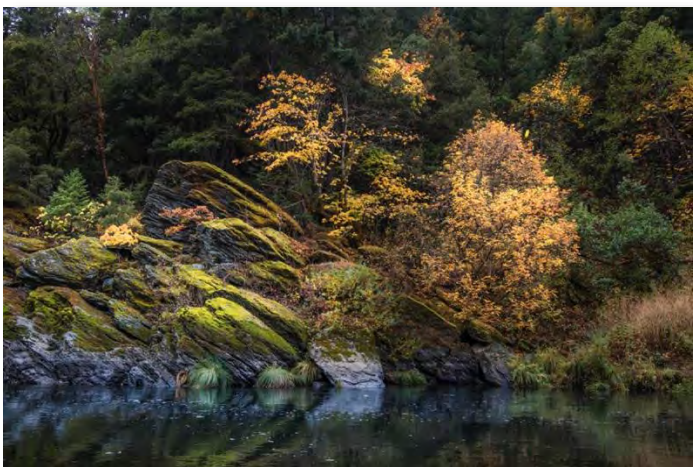

Plenty of fast water and rocks to dodge

And amazing colors

All that was missing was that bear Colin told us about

John and Sam passing us to get the nex stretch first

And they did...
